REF: Medi-Shower Products

As one of the largest healthcare organisations in the United Kingdom, Belfast Health & Social Trust provides a wide range of specialist services covering every aspect of health and social care.

One of the Trust's objectives is to ensure the provision of the highest possible quality of care delivered through a safe, effective and efficient environment.

In working to achieve this aim, Belfast Trust agreed to trial a number of anti-microbial Medi-Shower products. Following extensive use and examination of the systems, they have now been utilised throughout the Trust, including anti-ligature units where required. The benefits of using Medi-shower systems compared to standard showerheads and hoses, is the simplicity of internal design, combined with the silver impregnated material, which helps to prevent biofilm growth and the subsequent colonisation/proliferation of opportunistic pathogens.

In addition, the colour coding of the showerhead inserts makes the change out process much more efficient and simple to monitor as and when required. Medi-Shower products assist with being able to deliver a healthcare environment that ensures safe and effective patient care.
